

New Year's Eve

By

Adrián Balsa, Bernie Berroa and Lucas Lombardía

Features.

First, people are with their family and they eat special food.

Then, people play jokes and talk about funny things.

Last, people eat grapes at the same time as the bells strike twelve before the New Year. Exactly, one grape for each bell.

Special Food.

People usually eat meat or fish with a lot of desserts like nougat, sweets, ... Christmas sweets.

Interesting things.

People usually play jokes and always try to have a good time.

Some people put their suitcase out of their houses on New Year's Eve as a symbol for travelling a lot in the New Year.

Madrid's new year's eve.

Many people go to Puerta del Sol in Madrid.
One or two famous people are at the top of the big clock and count the bells for the other people who are there and for those who are watching it on TV.

At the end

Later, when the bells finish, people celebrate the New Year with their family and friends with music, like a party.

Many people drink alcohol to celebrate it, but young people dance with their family at home.

END